Subject: Art club

Hi, Cindy,

How are you? You weren't at the art club meeting today. Did you have to go home? I want to tell you about the meeting. On Monday, we're going to paint a special picture for the school festival in November! We'll paint different kinds of flowers. I want to paint some carnations. Emily will paint tulips, and Mary wants to paint a big sunflower. What do you want to paint?

See you,

Subject: Flowers

Hi, Emma,

I stayed at home all day because I had a cold. Thanks for the news. I want to paint roses. They're my favorite flowers. Tomorrow, my mother will buy some flowers for me, so I'll try to draw them. I need to practice!

See you on Monday,

Cindy

(五) 次の英文を読んで、1～8の間に答えなさい。

Bob and his big brother Paul liked to play in the woods. One day in winter, they found a baby fox in the woods. They tried to find his mother, but they did not see any other foxes. Bob said, "Let's keep him at home." Paul said, "No. We can't keep a wild animal." But Bob did not listen to him. Bob brought the fox home. He named him Rex and played with him at home. Rex was always with Bob.

One year passed. One day in February, Bob did not see Rex.  Bob tried to find him, but he could not. His mother said, "I think Rex went into the woods," "Oh, no. He may die. He doesn't know (B)  get food in the woods," said Bob. Then his father said, "He can find food in the woods. He's a wild animal. He may be eating something now."

Bob was sad. He went to his room and sat on his bed for some time. Then he began drawing a picture. He liked drawing pictures very much. He tried to forget his sadness by (C) doing that.

One afternoon in March, Bob and Paul went into the woods, and saw two foxes. One of them was Rex! Bob was very glad. He went slowly near Rex and called his name. The (D)  fox ran away but Rex stayed there. Bob thought Rex still loved him. Bob was going to hold him, but suddenly the fox turned and ran into the trees. Bob and Paul ran after him. Soon they could not see him. Paul said, "Bob, let's stop. Rex likes the woods. Let's go home." Bob wanted to play with him again at home.

A few days later Bob went into the woods. He did not come home at noon for lunch. So, that afternoon Paul went into the woods. He walked for some time. When Paul began to think he would not find Bob, he suddenly saw something in the dark woods. Paul stopped and looked at it. It was Rex. Near Rex he also found Bob. Bob said to Paul, "I found Rex here. I tried to bring him home, but (E) he didn't want to come back." Paul said, "I know you love Rex. But he is happier here now." "I love Rex, and Rex loves me, too." said Bob. Paul said, "O.K. Let's come here again tomorrow with food he likes. It's already dark now. Mother and Father are waiting at home." Then  Early the next morning Bob and Paul went into the woods with good food for Rex. But they could not find Rex. They went into the woods the next day, but they never saw Rex again. Bob cried and cried.

Father said, "Bob, if you really love Rex, you should leave him in the woods. They are his natural home. Rex is a wild animal.”

Bob was very sad. He could not forget Rex. So, he began to draw (G) a picture. He worked very hard. It was a picture of Rex and Bob. Rex was running with Bob and they looked very happy in the picture.
