(七) 次の英文を読んで、1～8の間に答えなさい。

I am a junior high school student and a *member of the soccer club. Last May, I had tests at school, but I did not *do well. I thought, “I will have a high school *entrance examination next March. I want to study harder, but I am very tired when I come home. (A) [ to / hard / it / for me / is / study ] for many hours at home. I like soccer very much but.. [ (B) ]” I became sad and didn’t sleep well.

The next day, I told my best friend Kenta about it after school. He was *captain of the soccer club. He said, “No! Takuya! We ( ① ) soccer together every day. (C) I want you to play the last game with us. You said that you had a *problem, but everyone has problems. I also have the same problem. Come to school at seven thirty tomorrow morning. [ (D) ]” I didn’t know that he had the same problem because he usually did well at school. After ( ② ) with him, I didn’t play soccer and went home.

When I went to school at seven thirty the next morning, I was very surprised. [ ア ] One of them said, “[ (E) ] We talked about it yesterday and knew that all of us had the same problem. [ イ ]” Then Kenta said, “So we *decided to study together before the first class every morning.” Mr. Suzuki, our *adviser, was also there. [ ウ ] He is an English teacher at our school. [ エ ] He said, “If you want to study English, I will teach you every morning.” I was very glad then.

We started ( ③ ) before the first class. Mr. Suzuki taught us English and (F) sometimes I taught history to some members because I liked it the best. And after school we practiced soccer.

In July, we had the last game. That was a good game but we did not win it. After the game, we cried and cried. I said to the other members, “[ (G) ] Now I feel glad because I could play the last game with you.” Kenta said to me, “I want to say ‘thank you’, too. You helped us and we helped each other.” Then Mr. Suzuki said to us, “When something looks hard for you, do it with your friends and help each other.”
